Coalition Depends Largely on Attitude Of Quebec Premier

Fred Pardee, Chief Liberal Whip, Leaves Montreal To Confer With Sir Lomer Gouin—Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier Meet Again—What Is Going On Behind the Scenes Known Only To Four Men—Climax Seems Near At Hand.

(By Morning Bulletin—Leased Wire)
OTTAWA, June 1.—Coalition talk continues to engage the attention of members of the house of commons. Another debate in chambers is devoted to the desirability of the government giving encouragement to the building of a railway (transport) line. It occupied the attention of a comparatively few members of the house and developed no new features. Gossip became the order of the day. It was known that Sir Robert Borden and Sir Wilfrid Laurier were again in conference. They were not together long, but Sir Wilfrid was seen to be in conference with a Liberal whip, who was with him for about an hour. Later Mr. Pardee left for Montreal or Quebec, presumably to meet the premier. The discussion in regard to the coalition proposals will doubtless have a very important bearing on final results. Mr. Pardee, it is reported, will return to Ottawa. Wilfrid is expected to return to Montreal earlier in the week. Much will probably depend upon the message Mr. Pardee brings back.

Just what is going on behind the scenes is definitely known to only four or five of the politicians in the capital, the two leaders, Hon. Arthur Meighen and Mr. Pardee. The two latter have been acting in a confidential capacity since the beginning of the negotiations for their respective chiefs.

Cabinet ministers and members generally are quite in the dark as to what is going on. That something definite will happen early in the week is the general expectation, as it is recognized that the situation is one that cannot be indefinitely postponed.

While there is still considerable opposition to coalition by members of both sides of the house, they are gradually becoming more reconciled to the idea of a coalition government, and in forming a non-party administration that will completely change the political outlook throughout the Dominion.

It is not likely that any coalition will be members of any coalition which may be formed will rest in abeyance until there is certainty as to the result.

Rival Candidates in W. Edmonton Give Dignified Presentation of the Issues Before an Interested Crowd

Mayor Henry and Mrs. McClung Present Liberal Arguments and A. F. Ewing and Mrs. Macdonald Give Opposition Criticism.—
Building Was Packed to Capacity—Larger Proportion of Audience Were Women.

The campaign meeting in Wesley church in the west end last night may be remembered for nothing more than a mere exposition of partisan issues and a gathering of an unusually large number of electors, with the greater proportion of these women. It may be honored in memory as the place where Ethel candidate and her husband, who were the only men present, were elected to the office of electors.

their supporters met in friendly and honorable debate and where personal references and insinuations so far as concerned their opponent was avoided, by a voluntary agreement.

The principals in the political duel were Mayor Henry, for the Liberal cause and A. F. Ewing for the Conservative cause. The following day, the second day, His Worship and Mrs. Clyde Macdonald supported Mr. Ewing. The Liberal was packed to its capacity and there was an absence of heckling and disturbance. The following were the most prominent remaining loyally to the late closing hour. Mrs. Desilets in the chair handled the meeting in excellent manner.

Mayor Henry

Mayor Henry was in particularly good form and made one of the best speeches of his campaign. His arguments were to the point and met with the hearty approval of the big audience. His only criticism was that he was neglecting his duties as mayor of the city while engaging in the campaign and he assured all and sundry that he would not neglect the duties of his mayoralty for the remainder of this term. He was approached for the legislative election not as a politician, but as a business man, and on this basis, he could not be otherwise than

Praises Railway Policy

"If nothing else had been done by the Liberal government during the past seven years their railway policy would have been a success," said the mayor and his sentiment was roundly applauded. He went on to show what great benefits had been derived from a policy which had cost 1.3 million of dollars away within the province. He went on to reiterate former statements showing that the guarantee in all cases had been from 15% to 25% less than the cost of the railway under the McArthur systems into the north-land were of immense value to the province and Edmonton and that the alleged shortage of $34,000 in a railway bond was a small price for a piece of legitimate business and not in any way a loss to the province of a gain to any member of the government.

He presented figures to show that the financial condition of the province is excellent, that the debt bearing a direct taxable charge is but $18,000,000 and that with the wild land tax arrears paid, the surplus for the year ending would have been over $250,000. B. C. had a $3,000,000 deficit, Saskatchewan $1,000,000, while Alberta and Manitoba were about the same.

In the Same Breath

"The opposition says in one breath that the government is rotten and should be kicked out, and in the next breath the opposition should be held now or during the war. He went on to deplore the fact that the racial cry had been introduced into the campaign, and that the citizenship tests which we have invited to share the rights and privileges for LONDON, June 1.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst has written to Premier Lloyd-George asking for passports for a deputation from the Women's Social and Political Union, including herself, to proceed to Russia, to explain their views on the war. Mrs. Pankhurst pointed out that if the government permitted James Ramsay MacDonald, the Labor leader, and his party, to go to Russia to preach their unpatriotic doctrines, there can be no excuse for hindering patriotic women from going.

BRITAIN MAY GRANT AMNESTY TO ALL SINN FEINERS NOW

LONDON, June 2.—The Daily Chronicle says it has reason to believe that the government is about to grant amnesty to all Sinn Feiners now in prison. The paper believes this would help to create a favorable atmosphere for the coming home rule convention, in which, it says, the Sinn Feiners will be represented.

Sickly babies—those who are cross and fretful; whose little stomachs and bowels are out of order; who suffer from constipation, indigestion, colds or any other of the minor ills of little ones—can be promptly cured by Baby's Own Tablets. Concerning them Mrs. Jean Parada, St. Bruno, Que., writes: "My baby was very ill and vomited all his food. He was cross and cried night and day and nothing helped him till I began using Baby's Own Tablets. They soon set him right and now he is a fat, healthy boy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario."

JAMES RAMSEY IS HEARD AT TWO MEETINGS

required the posting of the names. The Railway Bonds. Mr. McDermid also took exception to a statement of Mr. Ramsey's to the effect that the bonds of the railways concerning which the mayor had read reports, certifying that they were worth more than it had cost to construct them, had been guaranteed by the Alberta government. Asked whether the bonds of the C.N.R. line to Banquo had been so guaranteed, Mr. Ramsey answered that he was informed that it was not.

"Will you say it is a fact?" demanded his questioner, who added, when Mr. Ramsey repeated his previous remark: "Then it's heresy."

A. U. G. Bury. Mr. Bury, who was the first speaker, declared that Mr. Ramsey had been fighting a lonely battle in Edmonton in order that the young men and women employed in his store might have decent hours and opportunities for recreation. The speaker criticized Mr. Duncan, the Liberal candidate, for alleged misrepresentations of Mr. Ramsey's attitude with respect to the factory act and his statements before the Credit Men's association. He charged the Sifton government with corruption and maladministration. "We don't want a set of Solomon's at the parliament buildings," he asserted, "but a set of honest men who will not use their power to make capital for themselves as the present administration have done."

Mrs. Russell. Mrs. Russell, who said that she spoke as a woman and a housewife, said that the "business women" of Alberta were demanding a change in government. If they didn't win this time they would next time, sure. She predicted that many women were going to vote against their husbands at this election.

Mr. Ramsey. Mr. Ramsey, whose voice is showing the effects of unaccustomed public speaking, also paid his respects to Mr. Duncan. He said that the Liberal candidate knew that he had not organized the board of trade against the factory act and that he had not used the words attributed to him at the Credit Men's meeting. Yet he kept on repeating his misstatements.

Speaking with respect to the railway controversy, Mr. Ramsey declared that the speakers of the Liberal party were trying to draw a red herring across the trail when they quoted the reports on the present value of the lines, "not one mile of which had been guaranteed by the Alberta government."

The speaker reiterated his statement that not one foot of the McArthur railways had been built up to specifications, and that hundreds of miles of ballast, paid for by the province, had never been put on.

He discussed the Stanley charges against the attorney general's department at length and declared that four cabinet members were working in Dr. Stanley's constituency in the endeavor to defeat him. He also repeated his allegations on the evidence of a "minister of the gospel" that half the men who attended the recent meeting at Mountain Park in C. W. Cross' constituency were drunk, and declared that a vote for any Liberal candidate was a vote to continue that sort of enforcement of the liquor act.

At the Highlands. Mr. Ramsey and Mr. Bury, together with Mrs. Clyde MacDonald, spoke at a well attended meeting in the Highlands school, the two former making the same addresses which they gave at the McCauley school. J. A. Pullman was chairman and the speakers were accorded close attention.

WOMAN AND GIRL KILLED IN TORNADO AT PITTMAN, OKLA.

ARMORE, Okla., June 1.—Velma Higgins, nine years old; Mrs. George Godfrey and one other person were killed last night in a wind storm at Pittman, Okla., eight miles northwest of Marietta, Okla.

Two others are fatally injured. Three 55,000 barrel tanks of oil in the Healdton field here were burned. The total loss is estimated at $150,000.

Presentation to "Scotty" Davidson. One of the most interesting features of the evening was the presentation, made by His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, on behalf of the members of the Royal Council, of a basket of silver plate to C. G. (Scotty) Davidson as a mark of recognition of his efforts in the Sifton government.

In general, Mr. Davidson made a fitting reply, and the greeting given him on rising showed what a high place he occupies in the regard of his brother members.

The dire needs of such an act as the factory act were pointed out by Mr. Heffernan, K. C. The government is only a young one, he argued. In another term many more acts affecting the social and moral life of the world would be passed by the Sifton administration. Any government that legislates for the producers, as the Sifton government has done, deserves the votes of all the working class, he asserted. The next five years will be critical in the history of the province, and he could not see why the people would want to turn out a tried and trusted administration for a dark horse. He characterized the campaign of the opposition as slanderous and disgraceful.

In reference to the alleged drunkenness at the attorney general's convention in Edmonton, Mr. Heffernan stated that he had attended the convention and did not see one drunk. "I challenge Mr. Ramsey to come on a public platform and prove his allegations," and I will give him the lie. There wasn't one drunk in the 1,300 who were present, and I defy Mr. Ramsey to take the platform and disprove this statement.

PREMIER MURRAY OF N.S. READY TO ENTER NEW GOVERNMENT. MONTREAL, June 2.—A Halifax despatch of this morning to the Gazette reports: "A. K. McLean, M. P., arrived in the city shortly before 1 o'clock this morning from Ottawa and went immediately into conference with Premier Murray and other leading Liberals regarding the coalition proposal."

"It is well known that Premier Murray looks with favor upon entering the Dominion government. The chief difficulty in the way is the administration of affairs in this province. Two new portfolios were created at the last session, but these have not yet been filled. The financial burdens assumed by the provincial government, chiefly on the initiative of the premier, make the matter of his movement a question of great moment. Mr. Murray's acceptance of an offer to go into a federal coalition government will doubtless depend upon A. K. McLean's willingness to resign his seat in Ottawa and enter the Nova Scotia government, for in Mr. McLean Premier Murray is said to have complete confidence."

report the opposition used during the discussion in the legislature, had not at that time, paid his meat bill for a year. When a certain report of the Conservatives on the estimated cost of building these roads was being discussed, it was discovered, he pointed out, that the fish plates and all the ties were not estimated for; and when the report was brought back five times too many fish plates were quoted and not enough ties.

He defeated Mr. Duncan's opponent, Mr. J. A. Pullman, who was quoted as saying the report of his (Ramsey's) speech before the Credit Men's Association in Calgary. He read an article from a local paper which charged him with telling an untruth in this regard. "I want to tell him, when he says I lied, that I do not deal in that kind of goods, and I hurl it back at him," he said.

Hurt Alberta. He deplored the fact that the opposition were publishing misleading articles regarding the province's financial condition, and stated that the financial agents all over the world would be believing that Alberta is in bankruptcy. He showed clearly that the actual debt was much smaller than the figures given by the Conservatives. The Liberal candidate spent considerable time flooring charges of the opposition. In reference to the province's traveling expenses he asked the audience if they wanted him to travel abroad on a bicycle. For himself he wanted the premier to travel in state and represent the province as it should be done. He reiterated his statement about being in favor of free education for every person and received much applause for this.

"I believe that 75 per cent of the crime of the world is caused by ignorance," he asserted. In regard to the factory act, he said that of all the acts passed by the Sifton government this one touched his opponent the hardest and where it was felt most. "Show him dollars and cents and you show him his highest ideals," said Mr. Duncan.

For the support of the voters Mr. Duncan said, "We have twelve members of parliament living in Edmonton, and I will buy the person a new hat who can prove that one lives east of First street."

J. W. Heffernan. The dire needs of such an act as the factory act were pointed out by Mr. Heffernan, K. C. The government is only a young one, he argued. In another term many more acts affecting the social and moral life of the world would be passed by the Sifton administration. ## RIVAL CANDIDATES IN W. EDMONTON which our men are fighting in Europe today?" In regard to the proposed soldier representation he read an excerpt from the London Daily Mail lauding the Alberta system as one which should be a model to any election within the trenches.

He cited the Stanley charges in the legislature as broad and indefinite. "The same as I might say to Mr. Ewing here, 'You have stolen some money.' Mr. Ewing would have some time proving that he never had, and this without any reflection on the character of Mr. Ewing."

The mayor quoted figures to show that each mile of railway in the province is worth an increased land value for the five sections adjoining on each side, and for the increased value of settlement $24,000, while the railway guarantees are but $20,000 per mile. However, benefits in legislation could not be measured in dollars and cents.

Conservative Delay. One speaker called out to the mayor: "Wasn't it by forcing the Sifton government to use the monies deposited in the banks that the Conservative party saw that railways were extended into the northland?"

"If it hadn't been for the Conservative party," retorted the mayor, "the north would have had railways two years sooner."

A. F. Ewing. Mr. Ewing held that the present was no time for an election while the Empire's institutions were in gravest danger, and an election was not necessary although five sessions had been held. The lifetime of the legislature did not expire until May, 1918. He criticized the lower act for not giving the women anything more than the husband's property and their than a lifetime right to the homestead. He held that one third of the husband's estate was better than a mere right to the homestead for life. The factory act also he argued should apply to the entire province and not merely to cities of over 5,000 population. Likewise the minimum wage should be effective in every part of the province.

He said that when he first entered the legislature he was struck with the fact that it was not well with the railway situation. He was generally thought that the railway lines were not costing as much as the guarantee and accordingly investigations were asked for each year by the opposition into the railway question. He understood that not many of these newly constructed roads cost more than $15,000 per mile. One half mile of this average would cost $7,500. He said that as it stood the province had been robbed of over $4,000,000 in this wise. The opposition charges against a bond sale shortage of $534,000 had not fallen down but after making attempts in three sessions to obtain information it was finally announced by the government that $200,000 of this sum had been used by the Canadian Northern to pay interest charges, a step which he contended was illegal and the money should be refunded to the province.

The Stanley Charges. Mr. Ewing read the Stanley charges as being definite enough for anybody. Mrs. MacDonald said that the service of the province and promised that if the Conservative party got into power, one of the first measures would be a sweeping act to do away with political patronage. In closing, he attacked the telephone department for extravagance and incompetency; stated the system of soldier representation as reducing the money paid to men to an inconsequential two cents where only $5,000 electors voted in 1918, and stated that he was convinced that in their seven years of power the Sifton administration had played to capitalistic interests rather than to the common good and therefore would leave office with no little advantage to themselves.

Mrs. R. W. McClung. "I want to give a little attention to some of the things in this campaign which are not issues but which we cannot ignore," said Mrs. McClung. She denied as had been implied that she was obtaining pay from the government for her part in the campaign.

"My political opinions are my own and they are not for sale," "I never wanted to be regarded as a dead-head in my passage through life and neither have I followed what in military parlance is called the 'line of low visibility.' I don't believe in keeping my head down; where it won't get hit." Mrs. McClung said conscription also was not an issue but it has been introduced by the opposition workers in the campaign with whatever turn the political subject desired. The juggling with figures on the part of the opposition did not increase her regard for their honesty.

Concerning the travelling expenses of cabinet ministers, she was more interested in what they obtained in travelling for the province than she was about the actual money spent. The financial situation of the province and its excellent credit in the borrowing world showed what this travelling had accomplished. At least the figures showed that the book-keeping in Alberta was honest in that it required the expense accounts of ministers to be detailed and not set down as "miscellaneous" as was done in many of the other provinces.

When all was said and done it could not be denied that the Liberals gave the legislation which permitted prohibition. And Mr. McEwen said the direct legislation act was unconstitutional.

"Not a Tory." "There have been doubts raised about my politics. Well there have been times when I was in doubt myself. But I know one thing now that I am not and that is a 'Tory.' At least the Liberals have the human viewpoint. I am sorry that there should be a reactionary element amongst the women of this province who have been given the right to vote who who think it wrong to use the franchise for the government. I think we should show gratitude to the administration which gave us the rights we now have. It took a world war in other places to show that a system of government without women's influence was not right."

Mrs. McClung wanted to see civil service reform, but did the opposition promise for a commission mean that if they were returned to power all the civil servants would be fired and that thereafter a Conservative ed commission would select candidates for the posts? She the soldiers were well placed the system of representation had been given them. "And Tory workers are even going this city telling soldiers' wives their men in the trenches are denied representation while we were given to Germans at a time when the trenches were world is sick of bitterness sincerely thought that the born should not vote why Conservatives appeal to have them disenfranchised you in closing if we would in entrusting to power a province which is dominated of such narrow spirit, for the party is dominated Calgary who have resentment of women in the past and who have raised the soldier vote cry."

Mrs. Clyde Macdonald was time for a change when a government's searchlight of investigation turned in their direction, garded the lower act as patched up and unfair legislation which the women electors been consulted though the franchise when the measure rushed through the house. Tory act also had not been to the classes affected for tion and suggestion. She having the public health as by a separate department at that the wild lands has applied in the building of pits.

A successful meeting was held in the Methodist church, North Edmonton, last night, under the auspices of the Women's League. The program was put on by the young people of the Sunday school and consisted of songs, recitations and other items which were greatly appreciated by the large audience. The proceeds of the entertainment, $12, were handed over to the Red Cross funds.

Very delightful was the Cinderella Dance given Friday night by the Toronto Ladies' Athletic club in the separate school hall. A special feature was the summer comfort costume worn by nearly all who attended. The music was furnished by the orchestra, being able to shed both coat and vest and appear in cool attire. About eighty couples danced to the merry and catchy airs played by the orchestra. Delicious lemonade and supplied for the thirsty ones. The patronesses and committee were heartily assured of an enjoyable evening.

"After the Honeymoon," a delightfully humorous short sketch was effectively staged at the Great War Veterans' association club room on Friday night when the Me-Na-He-Ko-Bis chapter I. O. O. F. gave an interesting program in aid of the Returned Soldiers' fund. A fairly large crowd attended. A musical program consisting of vocal and instrumental numbers was appreciated. Miss Edna Mooney contributed a piano solo and Miss Etta Mialand and Miss Vernon Smith charmed the audience with several vocal selections. Miss Juliette and Gabrielle Belanger in songs and dances as usual won the hearts of all. The accompanists were Miss Helen Gorman, Miss Crawford and Mrs. Banger. Miss Minnie Conway, as the maid in the sketch, and Miss Etta Mialand, as the bride, three years ago, and Miss Helen Gorman, as the bride of a month, did exceptionally well. GOD SAVE THE KING
EARLE C. HILL, Music Director.
Music in lounge room—8.30—10 p.m.

Under the auspices of the Red Cross Mr. E. M. Shildrick will give a public recital on Tuesday, June 12th. Some twenty pupils will take part in the recital promises to be an exceptionally fine musical event. A double ladies quartet offers a novel treat. Mr. Lester Lambert, who won the first medal recently at the Musical Festival will sing, as well as Miss Young, who came second in the Contralto competition. It is expected that Miss Lambert's recital will be a particularly good one, and will be brought from Excel, Alta., to sing on this occasion. From all accounts some surprises are in store for the public and a large audience is assured.

A happy event, in the form of a surprise party to Miss Bertha Lattimore was given at her home, 984 106th Ave. Thursday evening, when a number of her friends assembled for a pleasant evening of music, refreshments and entertainment. Many beautiful gifts were bestowed upon the bride whose marriage to Mr. H. A. Andrews of Edmonton, takes place this month. Those present were Miss Richardson, Miss Hanna, Miss Surtees, Miss McKenzie, Miss Dow, Miss Roach, Miss Murray, Miss Johnston, Miss Gibson, Miss McDonald, Miss Wilson, Miss Seaton and Miss McLaughlin.

McDonald Baptist church misior circle held its annual thank-offering meeting in conjunction with the Ladies' Aid circle on Thursday afternoon in the McDonald lecture hall. The president, Mrs. J. H. McIntyre was in the chair. A special musical program was very heartily rendered during the session by Mrs. Cunningham, Mrs. Cameron and Miss Gertrude Patterson. Mrs. J. C. Bowen of the South Side Baptist church rendered a scripture lesson and followed it with a very helpful talk. The keyword of her address was "Pray ye, Go ye." The prayer for the offering was given by Mrs. H. H. Bull of First Baptist church, who took for her subject "The foreign woman and the franchise or some solution to the foreign mission problem." The question was very ably discussed by the speaker and numerous practical suggestions were given for individual foreign home mission work. A liberal offering for missions was taken during the meeting.

THE WOMAN'S PART

The following verses by J. E. McManus in a recent copy of "Blighty," have been sent to The Bulletin by a lady who believes they will be helpful to many wives and mothers who are honestly trying to do their part:

The boys in their khaki go out to the front! What are the women to do? They say, "Men must work, and women must weep." Is that all that's left for you? Don't believe it! The hardest part to play is the part of the mothers and wives!

To give your own life is a little thing! We give our menfolk's lives. The baby you've borne and suckled, and put in his shortened frocks—The boy that you've often scolded when you washed him and darned his socks. We've bred them, and reared them, and loved them—and now it's the woman's part To send them to die for England—with a smile and a breaking heart!

And we'll do it! Oh, girls might trifle, in the careless days of peace, With the boy of the seaside bandstand, his flannels without a crease, We might flirt, and kiss, and flutter—but the day the war began We women had done with the loaves—what we want today is a man! The man that will shoulder a rifle, and go out where the bullets fly, With his head held high, and a song on his lips, and a smile as he says "Good-bye."

We'll bid him God-speed and wish him good luck, and tell him he's one of the best, And he'll soon come back, with his duty done, and the hero's cross on his breast.

There's no place for a girl in the fighting line—but let this be your woman's plan— If we can't enlist for service, we can each of us send a man. If he lags, wake him up with a scornful word! Let him feel the lash of shame!

Till you fire his soul to ardor, and kindle his blood to flame. Let it be "Hand's off!" for the sluggard! For the nut and the flapper's joy, No smile and no kiss for the shirker! Keep your lips for the soldier boy. Send your boy to the colors, Mother! Hand him his belt and gun— It's better to lose him nobly than to be ashamed of your son.

When the work of the day is over, you can let yourself go, and cry In the gloom of the desolate fireside—in the dark, when there's nobody by, There isn't a sock wants darning; there isn't a boy to scold. For the dear old ash on the carpet for the dear old boy let grow cold. Their caps still hang on the hatstand, but there isn't a step on the stair; There's no gay young voice calling "Mother!" No sound—for the boys aren't there.

That's the time you know the anguish of the waiting woman's part; In the hush of the lonesome home it's the silence that tears your heart.

Night passes! We'll welcome the morning with a smile and a steadfast will; If we haven't our boys to work for, we'll work for our country still. He glad that your men are fighters—for the shame that sorely hurts Is to have a coward man-child, who hides behind women's skirts. For the dear old ash on the carpet for the dear old boy let grow cold. And if the names that you love are read the lists of the wounded and the dead, Don't cry! For they've climbed the pathway that heroes and martyrs trod; They sleep in the Rest of Heaven! They stand in the glory of God!

Wears Another Man's Ring
To the Editor Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—I am engaged to a girl and I saw another fellow's ring on her finger. She wears she does not go with him, that he is only a friend and lent her the ring for one day only. Could you tell me if I should get angry at her?
A. S. P.

It is just possible the young woman may have been teasing you. Since she is engaged to you, however, she should hardly wear another man's ring; reason with her and try to make her see that she was in the wrong.

Mending Rug
To the Editor Woman's Page:
Dear Madam—Please tell me how to mend a rug that has begun to wear in one or two places.
(Mrs.) O.N.

Lay the rug smoothly upon some-thing soft and slensy, wool crash or serge, and fasten so the threads run true with those of the rug. If the original fabric shows appreciably, darn it down on the patch, matching the darning wool to the colors. If there is a hole, put the wool double into a very large needle, then stick through from the top and bring out again at most at the same place, tie to the end above, stick back, up again, etc. until the entire space is covered with woolly loops. Cut them through with trim smooth with a pair of very sharp shears, comb with coarse comb and trim again. The repair will be scarcely visible when the rug is laid. If the work is done with a little care.

PARSONS-BEATON

A very pretty but quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McTaggart, 10644 80th avenue, Edmonton South, on the evening of Thursday, May 31st, when Miss Annie L. Beatson, niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. McTaggart, was united in marriage to Mr. John R. Parsons, of Edmonton South. The bride, who was unattended, entered the drawing room on the arm of her uncle, while Mrs. J. B. McTaggart played the wedding march. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. McGowan, M.A., of Knox Church, in the presence of only immediate friends. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons will make their home at 8864 84th avenue, south side.

Baker-Sherwin
At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Sherwin, 10148 17th street, on Thursday, May 31st, at eight p.m., the marriage of their youngest daughter, Stella Maude, to Floyd Milton Baker, of Spruce Grove, was solemnized in the presence of 1 immediate relatives and friends. Rev. Dr. Armstrong officiating.

The bride entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of "Swanee Song" played by Miss Dorothy Gamble, and looked exceedingly pretty in a gown of white silk crepe de chine, with silver trimmings and the conventional bridal veil and crown. She carried a bouquet of white roses. The rooms were tastefully decorated with palms, cut flowers and potted plants. After a dainty wedding dejeuner, a reception was tendered the bride and groom and the hearty congratulations and good wishes of a host of friends testified to the popularity of the young couple.

During the evening the bride received a telegram of congratulations from the groom's sisters at Niagara Falls, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker, after being previously decorated with confetti, etc., left via C. P. R. for Calgary, en route to Banff where they will spend a short honeymoon, the bride travelling in a suit of navy blue broadcloth opening over a blouse of pink silk chiffon embroidered in gold, with hat to match. On their return they will take up residence at Spruce Grove, where the groom has a thriving hardware business.

Among the gifts was a cheque from the firm of Emery, Newell, Ford, Bolton & Mount, of which firm the bride has been an employee for the past four years. Some of those present were: Mrs. R. Walton and Mrs. Kimball, Fort Saskatchewan; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Mills; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen; Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Morris; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. ## Economy

Many people think they are saving money by buying cheap tea, forgetting that it is not the cost per pound but the cost per cup that determines a tea's economy.

You may pay 5 or 10 cents more per pound for Red Rose Tea than for common tea. But because Red Rose Tea is a blend of Indian-Asam teas with Ceylons, consisting of the choice tender shoots and buds—the parts of the tea plant that yield the largest amount of liquor and the finest flavor—one-third less is required in the pot to make the same number of cups.

The cost per cup between Red Rose Tea and common tea is then practically the same. But the flavor—what a difference.

And this distinctive and delightful flavor and rich strength is protected by the Red Rose sealed package. No air, odors or dust can get in to injure Red Rose Tea's splendid quality and economy.

Order a package from your grocer.

In sealed packages only.

Red Rose crushed coffee is as generously good as Red Rose Tea and just as easy to make.

tice, or what principle of justice, or what principle of justice, or what principle of justice, or what principle of justice, or what principle of jus-

ed as clauses in a party program. If Mr. Ewing's conception of representative duties is that he should spend the next five years in sole contemplation of the few and trifling "planks" in his party platform of 1917 it would be a sad waste of his time and of public money to re-elect him.

On the question of disfranchising electors Mr. Michener's platform contains two "planks" and a suspicious gap. First, he declares that all the women in the Province should have been disfranchised by extending the term of the Legislature. Second, he declares that the soldiers and nurses overseas should be allowed to vote only for candidates in their "home" constituencies—an arrangement which Sir Robert Borden says would "not only practically but actually disfranchise them." Third, on the question of disfranchising naturalized citizens he refuses to speak but gave an opinion in private which an advocate of disfranchisement declared to be satisfactory to him. Apparently Mr. Michener's idea is that the way to get good government is to prevent anybody voting.

Railway construction apparently is not a subject that Mr. Michener considers of importance to the people of this Province. Neither in his published manifesto nor in his addresses is there any suggestion of a plan for getting railways built to accommodate the thousands of settlers now so far removed from markets that satisfactory farming is impossible and to open up for settlement our vast stretches of unoccupied farming land. He does not even recognize the need of getting more railways built. Should he be returned to power the settlers in isolated districts will know what they have to expect, as will also the business men in cities and towns dependent for the future upon the extension of shipping facilities and settlement. For the settlers a cessation of railway construction would mean continued isolation, and for the towns indefinite stagnation.

The Calgary Herald continues to hurl insults at women who exercise their citizenship rights by taking part in the political controversy, and refers disrespectfully to two distinguished and very highly esteemed women of the Province being "trailed around" after the Premier. The local member of the Southern family has been hardly so outspoken in its effrontery, but has gone far enough to show that the spirit is willing if prudential considerations did not intervene to temper the nature of its remarks. Since the Government extended the franchise to the women without any help from the Opposition, these papers have been eloquent in expressing the flattering expectation that the influence of women would do something to put politics on a higher plane. But immediately the women begin to take their rightful part in political discussion they are subjected to a tirade of abusive language, seasoned at times with positive insults. The idea, it seems, is that he women should elevate politics by standing aloof from them, and exerting the uplift by means of some occult influence. It can't be done. The women have been trying to elevate politics by that method for some centuries, and it is still possible for Hon. Robert Rogers to be a member of a Canadian Government. If the women are to do anything to better politics, they will have to get into politics, and the farther they get in the greater will be their influence. It is time the Opposition papers shut off their pious professions of desire to have the women elevate politics. The plain meaning of their present campaign is that they do not want women in politics, and do not intend to tolerate them if they can be abused and insulted into silence.

Ewing explains that he did take a stand on the question man suffrage until the Government introduced the bill and him to—because womanage had never been included in the Conservative platform. There have been too many men at stamp in the Legislature past for the good of the Province. The Legislature of the Province ought to be a forum for expression of opinion on all matters which fall within the jurisdiction of the Provincial authorities, not merely a class-room for the stereotyped maxims of the party platforms. Lead of public thought ought not to be a strange and unknown ideal member of the Legislature, always will be a strange to members who confine thinking and speaking to the party platform. The people of the Province will never get from the Legislature the leadership and the service they are entitled to expect and demand until they end to the House men who call their political souls own, and to think out for themselves and speak out for the upon matters that have not been advanced for their vote possibilities and formulae.

Current Comment

One Case of Profiteering

From Toronto Globe:

The Minister of Finance has twice informed Hon. George P. Graham that the names of the bondholders of the Quebec & Saguenay Railroad are unknown to him. The people of Canada have a right to know to whom they are paying millions, and it is the duty of the Finance Minister to tell them. The unpopularity of the government has put their money into the railway through the lure of an exuberant prospectus sold out at 60 cents on the dollar when the construction of the line was stopped for want of funds. They feared they would fare worse if they refused the offer. Probably their fears were justified. Having no pull at Ottawa, they would have been unable to make the Government see the advantage of buying the property. The Canadian group who purchased the bonds at bargain counter prices had friends at court, and are hopeful of an arrangement by which they will unload their securities on the country at par. Not satisfied with the findings of the Exchequer Court, to which the matter has been referred, they are back at Ottawa demanding further favors. The voluntary lavish expenditure of the government on the railway is a financial outrage, a crime against the war-time gospel of thrift and economy of which the Finance Minister himself has been an eloquent exhorter.

AN EXPLANATION

Editor Bulletin:

Sir—Having always received fair play from local papers, I am appealing to you now to correct gross misrepresentation of facts in reference to an article which appeared in the morning edition of your paper of June 1st in regard to Mr. Douglas, candidate for South Edmonton.

The Civic Club, which is strictly non-partisan, arranged a meeting to be held May 30th, at 3 o'clock, to hear all the candidates for office in the coming election, and to give them fifteen minutes each to give their reasons for aspiring to government honors.

The convenor of program committees made arrangements by telephone for this meeting with full instructions giving day of week, and month and hour, namely, Wednesday, May 30th, 3 o'clock stating she thought this would be a nominal day.

Mrs. Douglas, in reporting this to Mr. Douglas, only mentioned nomination day. The Bulletin and Journal had for this meeting with full instructions giving day of week, and month and hour, namely, Wednesday, May 30th, 3 o'clock stating she thought this would be a nominal day.

EDNA MAY IS STAR COMING TO EMPRESS

Wife of New York Millionaire Is Feature Actress in "Salvation Joan."

Prejudiced at first against motion pictures in any form, and refusing even to look at one of them, Edna May, wife of a New York millionaire and known to the theatrical world as the "Belle of New York," finally succumbed to their lure, and now stars from the legitimate stage evinces a deeper interest in the motion picture art.

Miss May received her "movie" education at the Vitaphone studios in Brooklyn before making her first and only picture, "Salvation Joan," for which she received $100,000 for a salary which she at once turned over to the Red Cross and a number of worthy charities. After leaving the legitimate stage I was more or less famous as the "Belle of New York," said Miss May. "I openly derided motion pictures as a catch-penny device. Even when Mr. Albert Smith laid before me the proposition to pose for the Vitaphone company I was skeptical. The few weeks spent at the Vitaphone studios changed my opinion, and I realize now how great a work of education the photoplay performs. The charms of Dickens, the pulsing narratives of Hugo, the immortality of Shakespeare and the best literature of all ages is now being carried to the masses through the medium of the screen. It starts me when I contemplate to how many have the screen given appreciation of the best in the world of art and literature."

Miss May is the star of "Salvation Joan," the latest Vitaphone special, a blue ribbon feature, which is at the Empress theatre the first three days of next week.

DREAMLAND

"Her Great Price," a Metro wonder-play in five gripping parts, with Mabel Taliaferro, the pretty and charming young star, in the stellar role, will be the next feature attraction here at the Dreamland on Monday and Tuesday. Miss Taliaferro is supported by an exceptionally strong cast, including Henry Mortimer, Richard Barbee, Geo. Launcefort, Ruth Chester, Jeanne Morton and William Cahill. There are many artistic settings and interesting scenes in this novel Metro production. The story itself is one of the most fascinating and surprising narratives ever shown on the screen. Until the final scenes are shown the spectator will not have the faintest idea of the outcome. "Her Great Price," Henry Mortimer, and Edwin Carewe, who directed "Destiny," or the South Sea Woman, with Emily Stevens in the stellar role, and Ethel Barrymore in "The Final Judgment," two Metro screen masterpieces, is responsible for the finished direction of "Her Great Price."

"WOMEN" WILL LEAD PROGRAM AT PANTAGES

Alluring Title for Pleasing and Up-To-Date Vaudeville Sketch.

Women, lovely women, are the cause of one of the feature acts at the Pantages theatre next week. The title is "Women" and the act is said to be a delightful and interesting little comedy sketch in which the three characters—three wives, are played by a trio of clever actresses, Cecil Chola, Betty Keith and Pauline Lockhart. The action takes place in the apartment of one of the three, late at night. Despite the fact that the secretaries and ways of womanhood are dealt with in the pages of a smart, bright magazine. As has been pointed out in these columns before, a George Chouss and means an abundance of class, attractive girls, stunning costumes and talented principals. "Women" is no exception to the rule. It is described as a pretty one-act play set to music with a cast of twelve people, headed by Frank Herrington and Charlotte Taylor. Mr. Herrington is a well known light comedian, who has appeared in many Broadway productions in support of widely known stars.

REAL MELODRAMA IS THE PULSE OF LIFE

Bluebird Play Has Italian Setting With Virtue Having Its Own Reward.

"The Pulse of Life," the latest Bluebird, with Wedgewood Nowell and Gypsy Harte playing the principal roles, will be displayed at the Majestic on Monday and Tuesday of next week. It is a Rex Ingram production. The plot: Lisetta Masato comes from the Isle of Capri with Guido Serrano, Italian artist, who brings her to New York and then deserts her. Stanford Graham, a sculptor, hires Lisetta as a model, and falls in love with her. Lisetta's brother, Domenico, comes from Italy to avenge his sister's wrongs and kills Serrano with a dagger, the ownership of which is traced to Graham. Convinced on circumstantial evidence Graham is about to be executed when Domenico's conscience prompts the young Italian to confess. Lisetta returns to her home in Italy and when Domenico has served his term of imprisonment he joins his sister and his father on the Isle of Capri. Not a startling novelty, in the way of a plot, but, treated in Bluebird fashion, excellent entertainment of a sensational nature is assured.

JOFFE'S VISIT TO MONTREAL TO BE SHOWN ON SCREEN

The visit of Marshall Joffe of Canada to the republic of Ottawa and Montreal recently will be shown on the screen at the Empress theatre next Saturday in connection with the regular program. Canada was done great honor by these two delegates of the French mission to Washington. It was thought at first that there would not be time for them to see part of Canada, but arrangements were finally resolved, and they were enthusiastically received wherever they went. The film shows the receptions at the French mission in both Ottawa and Montreal, and the farewell and departure at the Windsor street station in Montreal.

UNDERSEA FILM IS WARMLY PRAISED BY WINNIPEG PRESS

Winnipeg newspapers have been lavishing praise on "The Submarine Eye," which comes to the Empress theatre next week. For instance, the "Free Press" of May 22 says: "Deep sea photography is remarkably reflected on the screen this week at the Walker theatre where last evening the Williamson Brothers' latest moving picture marvel, 'The Submarine Eye,' was shown before a large and interested audience.

The story of the picture concerns the adventures of a cadaway whose buried treasure is found many years after he has perished; is then lost at sea and finally recovered with the help of submarine eye. An ingenious telescope, which is capable of detecting objects without the slightest difficulty at the bottom of the sea. The scenes of the action take place in the shark-infested waters of the West Indies and particularly in one view is to be seen a man-eating monster skulking near to the horizon. In addition to numerous dramatic moments in the romantic story there is to be seen a variety of excellent undersea views, a sponge bed and a group of black divers for coins thrown into the sea. The same native who saved the life of the inventor is also seen making a sensational dive to recover a valuable picture. From beginning to end the picture holds the onlooker spellbound. The interest never being allowed to lag for one moment. The sea drama has been admirably constructed, no expense evidently having been spared in the arrangement of the several scenes, for by the way are excellent screen favorites as Barbara Tennant, Chester Barnett, Lillian Cook and Eric Mayne.

MAJESTY

The policy of a complete change of program three times a week, with the best first run pictures that it is possible to secure and with no advance in admission prices, which has been followed at the Majesty theatre ever since it was opened, will be continued this week. On Monday and Tuesday, Bluebird Days, there will be shown Rex Ingram's fifth Bluebird play, "The Pulse of Life." This sensational melodrama is a fitting successor to Mr. Ingram's previous contribution to the Bluebird series—"The Great Problem," "Broken Fetters," "The Challenge of Sorrow," and "Black Orchids." On Wednesday and Thursday Mabel Taliaferro, who has abandoned the stage for the photoplay, will appear in a beautiful Metro drama, "The Sunbeam." Mabel Taliaferro needs no introduction to those who have any knowledge of her, for she is one of the most successful actresses of the speaking stage and now is even excelling her stage work by her picture performances. On Friday and Saturday the ninth episode of "The Voice on the Wire," will be shown. In addition to the Bison drama "The Wedding Guest," in which Harry D. Carey plays the lead, and regular comedy and educational features.

SUBMARINE PHOTOGRAPHY COINS WORDS

Activities of Williamson Brothers Will Enrich English Language in Future.

Several new words will probably find their way into the next edition of the English dictionary through the activities of the Williamson Bros., originators and sole producers of submarine motion pictures. The producers of "The Submarine Eye," which opens at the Empress theatre next Monday afternoon, came face to face with an unlooked-for problem when they began to search for some terms to identify their new art. Many dictionaries were perused, and many authorities were consulted, but without avail. There simply were no words to fit this new departure in science.

Consequently words were coined to fit the need, and these new additions to the vocabulary have now come into such common usage that they will be included in the revised official dictionaries. Oceanography is the word used quite extensively now to refer to the taking of photographs under and through the water. This, and its derivative "Oceanography," pertaining to those who do the underwater photographing, and "Oceanographs," indicating the actual photograph themselves, are the principal additions to the popular vocabulary.

Due to the fact that the words mentioned above are not quite specific enough when it is desired to refer to the making of motion pictures under the sea, the word "Submarinephotography," or its shorter coinage, "Subphotography," will probably come into popular favor.

When the undersea scenes in "The Submarine Eye" are witnessed the necessity for such new words will at once be realized. This amazing deep sea romance with its stories of love and youth, and life, ranspiring both above and under the water, with its amazing thrills, its sensational episodes, its hairbreadth escapes, and its showing of how our government is, in a measure, combating the U-boats of the Hun, all form an evening of the most intense and impressive entertainment that has been seen in this city. To add to the interest, the Messrs. Williamson Bros. have supplied special music for the several scenes enacted in this marvelous submarine. Eubank and Cheate, Barnett are the principal featured—sonages in this exciting drama of love and romance.

FAIRBANKS HIS OWN BOSS NOW IN FILMS

"Doug" Will Appear on Monarch Screen Next Week in First Artcraft.

Thirty-four years ago a child with a cunning little grin was born in Denver, Colo., and today that grin is known in every nook and corner of America. This same child is now heading the Douglas Fairbanks film company, engaged in producing sunshine plays for Artcraft Pictures, the first of which, "In Again—Out Again" will be exhibited at the Monarch theatre all next week.

America's Mr. Fairbanks has the best advertised smile in the world and even the cruelest, cold-hearted rent collector feels his charitable when he sees that grin flashed on the screen. On the legitimate stage "Doug" became widely popular and he must needs have plenty of space, which will readily be appreciated by all those who have viewed his activities on the screen.

In view of his athletic ability as evidenced in the photoplay Mr. Fairbanks was recently asked to reveal some of his rules for keeping in perfect condition. "To be athletic," replied the popular star with a twinkle in his eye, "one should sleep at least eight hours a day. That's why I seldom sleep more than five. When first awakened, you should take a glass of hot water—I should a grape fruit. Meals should be eaten in moderation; personally I would suggest a Hungarian goulash for lunch and a boiled Irish stew for dinner. One of the principal things, however, about athletics is exercising without it one cannot become an athlete. Those who strive for physical perfection often neglect the mental and spiritual. A half hour each day should be devoted to serious reading—poetry and metaphysics. But the best rule of all is, don't worry, always smile."

Fairbanks has surrounded himself with a company of players who are very favorably with the star's rare talent is concerned. They include Arline Pretty, Walter Hunt, Albert Parker, Bull Montana, Ada Gilman, Frank Lator, Betty Tyrer and Spike Robinson.

"Salvation Joan."—Vitaphone Special.
"Female of the Species."—Triangle.
"The End of The Trail."—William Fox.

The one and only picture that Edna May, the star of the Belle of Broadway ever made is "Salvation Joan," a Vitaphone special that will be at the Empress theatre the first three days of next week. It will be remembered that Edna May married a wealthy New Yorker and refused point blank to leave the stage for the movies. The even consider an appearance in the silent drama. Persistent arguments finally won, however, and the money which she received for her services, $100,000, she gave to charities. It is quite a transformation from the dainty frills and fineries of the wardrobe of a millionaire to the simple costume of a humble worker in the ranks of the Salvation Army, yet the transformation does not detract from Miss May's beauty. As "Salvation Joan" she has the finest character she ever took, and this will be Edna May's only chance to see her in the movies. Act on the stage, for she has left them both for good. The story is true to her life, being that of a society girl who tires of the empty life of her class when she realizes the suffering, misery and poverty that exists in the great city in which she lives, so, hiding her identity, she goes to work among them. What she finds makes Thursday only a Triangle feature, "The Female of the Species," with Dorothy Dalton in the leading role. For the first time in her motion picture career Miss Dalton is given an opportunity to exhibit her excellent sartorial tastes. She has been associated with the lace forces for well over a year, being termed a "revolutionary vampire," yet in none of her vehicles until this latest play has she been able to exercise her creative powers. She wears six charming creations during the action of the piece, and the ladies are assured of a treat in this regard. William Farnum comes again on Friday and Saturday, this time struggling against an overpowering fate in his new William Fox picture, "The End of The Trail." The snowed-out regions of the great north-west furnish the setting for this story, which tells of a fight made by one man for his home and happiness. On these two days there will be shown the films made in Ottawa and Montreal on the occasion of the visit to these two cities of Marshall Joffe and M. Viviani, ex-president of France.

MABEL RATED AS STAR WHEN SHE WAS BA

Miss Taliaferro's First Appearance Upon the Stage Was a Scream.

Of Mabel Taliaferro, who the powerful Metro produced "Sunbeam." It has been said was a stellar light even as a For Miss Taliaferro was one and one-half years old when she made her stage debut in "Blue in that part she was literally a first audience she began to cry. As this display of emotion fitly with her part, she achieved great success and was heralded as a baby star.

When fourteen years old M. appeared in the charming of "Love Mary," in the original production of "Mrs. Wiggs of the Bishop's Carriage," both country and in the United States. As the star of the "Circus," she became the pet of the try. It was difficult for her to do this role as there was a demand to see her in it. As M. Taliaferro demonstrated wonderful versatility by work in George Bernard Shaw's "Never Can Tell," and in other equally as difficult.

The last appearance of M. Taliaferro on the speaking stage was in the role of "The Dawn of Now Henrietta." She left the stage to join the Metro force. "Delivery is to be completed within eight months and the average price per pair will be $4.85. The contracts, awarded on competitive bids, were distributed among twenty-seven firms.

Today We Celebrate

Women, the indefinite dears, are gifted with the art of evading questions which they do not think would be becoming for them to answer, and the eternal question which they avoid as often as circumstances permit, is that of their age. Mrs. William Howard Taft is an exceptional woman in many respects, and in this respect she doesn't care if the wide world knows that she is 55 years young today—and she looks it, despite the fact that she has performed the exacting duties of the first lady of the land enough to add ten years to the look of any woman, and she did so with great glory to herself and without lowering any of the personal charm which characterized her as a woman of great gentleness during those tedious days when she was forced to be hostess to a great many and on a great number of occasions, when she would rather have been reading, or at the opera, or for a drive in the park.

Helen Herren was born in Cincinnati three years, three months and thirteen days after the birth of William Howard Taft in the same Ohio metropolis. Like her future distinguished husband, Miss Herren sprang from a family which was notable for many legal lights, and she inherited a judicial temperament which made her an ideal wife for Mr. Taft.
Her father, John W. Herren, was long a United States district attorney, and a close friend of President Hayes. A girl in her term she had her first taste of life in the White House, as she was frequently a guest of President and Mrs. Hayes while that distinguished man presided at the executive mansion.

A June baby, Miss Herren was also a June bride. The romance of "Nell" Herren and "Tut" Taft began when she was in the "third grade," and when he was imagining that life would be complete if he could go west and shoot "injun." On the 18th of June, in 1886, there was a wedding in the Herren home, and William Howard Taft and his blushing bride set forth blithely to Europe on a honeymoon trip.

A devoted wife and mother and a charming and amiable White House hostess is the simplest and best description of Mrs. Taft. The duties and responsibilities of her exalted position were fully and up to, but without accompaniment of brass bands or megaphones. Not given to any show and avoiding publicity on all occasions, Mrs. Taft's opinions on public questions are not generally known.
She holds that women have a right to vote, but does not believe in parade window smashing, and is not in symphony with women holding office. Her right to vote should be dissociated with the right to hold office, is her theory. Mrs. Taft has often admitted that she was largely responsible for Mr. Taft's having chosen his below average for the political arena.

Drinking Tea Upset Nerves

Mr. Burroughs Compares Canadian Customs With Those in Old Land, and Tells How Nerves Were Set Right.

Orillia, Ont., May 18.—"How to be well and strong?" is the question many are asking at this time of year, and in this letter you will find the answer.
It tells something of the blood-forming, nerve-invigorating influence of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, the great restorative which is causing so much talk here just now.

Nature's way of curing disease is by building up the vitality of the body, and this is exactly what Dr. Chase's Nerve Food does. The blood is made rich and red, and it nourishes the exhausted nerves back to health and vigor.

The experience of Mr. Burroughs as described in this letter is similar to that of hundreds of others in this community who have recently put this well-known food cure to the test.

Mr. George Burroughs, 23 Peter street, Orillia, Ont., writes: "A few years ago, after coming out to this country from England, the change of customs seemed to have some effect on me. In the old country the habit of drinking strong tea was prevalent, and after arriving here I suffered very much from nervousness. If I put my arm down on the table it would shake very noticeably, and while performing my work I would easily tire, and want to sit down and rest. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, so I secured some and took a treatment. It built me up and made me strong and healthy. I have not had a trace of the nervousness since. I have used Dr. Chase's Ointment also, and find that it heals the skin very quickly. I feel I need all of Dr.
Chase's medicines good."

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, 50 cents a box, a full treatment of 6 boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or Edmanston Pharmaceutical Co., Limited, Toronto. Do not be lulled into accepting a substitute.
imitations only disappoint.

How You May Change Your Face Completely

Any woman not satisfied with her complexion can easily remove it and have a new one. The thin veil of stifling half-dead cuticle is an encumbrance and should be removed to give the fresh, vigorous, young skin underneath a chance to show itself and to breathe. There is a simple, old-fashioned remedy which will always do the work. Get an ounce of pure mercuric oxide from your druggist and apply it at night like cold cream, washing it off in the morning. The wax will gently absorb all the lifeless skin and leave a healthy and beautiful complexion, as fresh as a child's. Naturally it takes with it all such facial blemishes as freckles, moth patches, sallowness, liver spots, pimples. It is pleasant to use, and economical. The face so treated will look years younger. To keep the skin free from wrinkles and furrows there is nothing quite so good as the old reliable salicylic lotion. It is only necessary to dissolve an ounce of powdered salicylic in a half pint of witch hazel and bathe the face in this as required. The result is instantaneous and wonderful, and there is no harmful effect whatever.

GERMANS EXPECT HEAVY FIGHTING ON EAST FRONT

The Hague, May 31, via London. June 1.—The Germans undoubtedly expect heavy fighting on the eastern front. Recent arrivals in Holland state that considerable transport of men and naval guns is going on to the eastward. The latter feature is novel, and appears to indicate a shortage of heavy and high angle field artillery. The latest German communiqués continue to refer to the increasing artillery along the whole eastern front.

The Frankfurter Gazette this morning published a leading article emphatically warning the public that the so-called unofficial truce is now over and that the entente has apparently succeeded in arranging for a simultaneous offensive on all fronts. The paper says that the Kaiser's warning to the troops on the western front that a decision was at hand referred to this coming combined offensive.

It is significant that Theodore Wolff, in the Tageblatt, again warns the German public to abandon all hope of a separate peace with Russia, whilst the Dutch pacifist press tonight accuses the German chancellor of clumsiness in his treatment of the Russian situation.

It is learned from well-informed sources that the German military party were anxious to deal a smashing blow on the Russian front during the crisis of the revolution, but were prevented by the complete impossibility of withdrawing men and guns from the western front.

Sidelights on the War

Great influences are being brought to bear in Washington by certain organizations whose purpose it is to drive alcoholic beverages from the American menu, upon President Wilson and the members of congress, to make national prohibition a war measure, and the fight which these organizations are presenting has the liquor interests sitting up to take notice.

A brief sketch of the action of the belligerent countries on the other side is apropos of the action which is being pursued in Washington. At an early stage in the war in Austria-Hungary the hours for the sale of intoxicants were limited on ordinary days to between 9 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and on Sundays and holidays all shops in which liquor only is sold are closed.

More or less absolute prohibition of the sale of alcoholic liquors applied to soldiers in sixteen police districts in Denmark, or at least did a few months ago, when the statistics here quoted were made available, and in all likelihood this number has been increased by now. In many of the districts this applies to the citizens. The use of potatoes and various kinds of grain in the manufacture of alcohol is forbidden. France forbids the sale of spirits to all soldiers in uniform in Berlin and in the province of Brandenburg, and here the output of breweries and distilleries is limited. A bill in preparation is said to prohibit the sale of spirits entirely.

In Holland saloons are closed earlier than before the war in certain sections.

The use of potatoes and grain in Norway is restricted in the manufacture of spirits and beer. Spirits are sold on only four days a week.

In Russia all wine shops, beer saloons and government vodka shops were closed at the beginning of mobilization, except in hotels of the first class and the best restaurants, until the completion of mobilization, and this order with slight modification still remains in force. What change for more strict enforcement of restricted alcoholic sale has been effected since the abdication of the throne is not now definite. Three months ago the sale of beer and wine in Petrograd was restricted to forty-nine hotels and restaurants. Light red and white wine may, together with champagne, be sold by wine merchants between 10 o'clock in the morning and 5 o'clock in the evening, except on Saturday and the eve of festivals, when the hours are from 10 until 2. The sale of all intoxicants is forbidden on Sunday and feast days. Liquor in hotels and restaurants is supplied only with meals. In other European countries few or no measures have been taken concerning the sale of liquor.

MAY INDICATE BATTLE SOON Copenhagen, June 1, via London.—German newspapers are printing anniversary articles on the naval battle of Skagorak, the impression being generally expressed that another battle is an immediate possibility. The articles are intended to arouse enthusiasm for the national subscription in aid of families of German sailors lost in submarine war.

Alberta Methodist Ministerial Association Passes Strong Resolution at its Annual Meeting, Being Held in Calgary.

Calgary, June 1.—The annual conference of the Methodist church of Alberta which is in session here, passed the following resolution today: "Whereas, the ideals for which we are fighting in Europe—justice and freedom, honor and truth—are those of the Christianity which we preach, and

"Whereas, a voluntary system of service, while it has given to Canada an opportunity to show to the world its capacity for splendid service and self-sacrifice, and has been productive of great and lasting results which will ever resound to her glory among the nations of the world, nevertheless has not yet proved sufficient to guarantee the certainty of the permanent maintenance of these ideals; and

"Whereas, it is important that the endeavor should be made in vain; be it therefore,

"Resolved, that this annual conference of the Methodist church is firmly convinced that no considerations of political expediency should deter the government of Canada in taking such steps as shall immediately compel into national service all the available resources of men, material and wealth in the Dominion in order that the struggle may the sooner be brought to an honorable, successful and permanent conclusion.

"And, that a copy of this resolution be wired to the Right Hon. Sir Robert L. Borden, prime minister, and to Sir Wilfrid Laurier, leader of the opposition."

The foregoing resolution was moved by Rev. Dr. Huestis, of Red Deer, whose eldest son was killed in action and was seconded by Hon. W. H. Cushing. When the president put the matter to a standing vote, the entire conference with the exception of one minister, rose and sang with energy the national anthem.

The motor car industry has seen some wonderful successes—but never a more astounding triumph than that of the Gray-Dort.

Our first model was announced in December, 1915. The Gray-Dort was then unknown. Only one announcement was made. But in 3 days our entire 1916 output was sold. Dealers clamoured for more cars. Many motorists were disappointed.

For 1917 we increased our output tremendously. But the same scenes were repeated. Dealers came from all over Canada and asked for more than the entire output.

The Battery Man a Detective

No part of an automobile shows more quickly the effect of abuse than the storage battery, and each particular form of abuse has its definite sign, according to Mr. Blais of the Motor Car Supply Co., Limited, local Willard agents.

"We men in the automobile business," says Mr. Blais, "hear a great deal about guarantees being abused, but battery men are never bothered with that kind of thing."

"We don't have to be wizards to discover when a guarantee is being overstepped, for the battery tells its own story."

"A man comes into us with a battery which he says is practically new, and which he thinks he has given the best of attention, but he says it will not hold the charge. Its forthwith demands a new battery."

"We open up his battery and find, perhaps, that the upper half of the plates is covered with white sulphate and that there is a sharp line of demarcation between the upper and the lower halves."

"The battery has told us the whole story. The owner might have thought that he was treating it carefully when he did not use it to run the automobile as when he was practicing economy of current in starting and lighting. But he has never filled it with distilled water. The water in the battery has evaporated; only the lower half of the plates has been exposed to the action of the electrolyte. The capacity of the battery naturally has been cut in two and the upper half of the plates has been ruined. No wonder that it would not hold the charge."

"Another man comes in and says that his battery is dead. He, also, has given it the best of attention; has never done anything with it that the service station has not recommended, and now it won't work. He, too, demands a new battery or that this one be put in good condition."

"Hydrometer tests show a high specific gravity, so we open up the battery and find that it is short circuited, that the wooden insulators have been corroded and eaten away until there is practically nothing left of them."

"With a comparatively new battery only one thing could cause this, the owner has added acid to the electrolyte, a thing which should be done by the car owner under no circumstances."

"We had a man in here the other day who had a real grievance. He had been touring for some little time, the battery had given him no trouble at all during the last two or three days, but all of a sudden it seemed to have gone dead. In his trouble he came to us and asked that we open his battery for inspection and repair it."

"We opened the battery and found that it had been over-charged. That is, the generator was returning to it far more energy than was being used by starter and lights. The plates were buckled and bent out of shape, the insulation was ruined and the active material in the plates (lead oxide) was softened and ready to crumble. In other words, failure to take the temperature of the battery or let the service station do it, had absolutely ruined his battery."

"There is such a thing as the battery being killed with kindness. We frequently have for repair batteries whose owners have not only kept them filled with distilled water, but kept them overfilled. When too much water is put into the battery the excess is forced out through the cap. This excess, however, is no longer pure water, but diluted with acid which naturally eats away the case of the battery."

"The jars in the Willard battery are subjected to severe tests before they leave the factory, and when we get a battery with a broken jar we know that the odds were 100 to one it has not received fair play."

"Excessive vibration and rough riding are the two chief causes of cracked jars. The prevention suggests itself—careful driving and when the riding is rough see to it that the battery is firmly clamped down."

"A battery that is being abused can't hold a loud, but to the experienced eye of a battery expert, it speaks a silent and absolutely truthful language."

In the World of Labor

THE STRIKE of electrical workers

employed by the government telephone department has been, so far, mainly confined to the district south of Red Deer, and would seem to have little effect in the city immediately, although it may have a bearing in the near future. W. J. Dyson, the officer of the international union of electrical workers, who is in Edmonton, says that the city of Edmonton will be asked to make agreements with the electrical workers in both the city telephone and electric light and power departments.

"The first thing that the city council should do is to make a similar request will be made of the management of the Alliance Power Company, this following a promise made by the company when taking over the power plant from the city that in six months or so, they would consider the matter of an agreement so far as the city departments are concerned, the relations between the management and the employees have always been the most cordial, and the matter of increased wages has already been discussed. It would be a pity for the element of discord to be introduced. The question came up at one of the 'get-together' meetings of the city telephone workers and officials, and it was decided that the best course to adopt would be to frame a wages schedule covering the whole of the department, and to work with little interruption. The two-platform system is claimed to obviate this, because the men work in two shifts with set times, one on duty and the other then being off. To institute this means an increased number of men in the department, with the natural consequence—a larger payroll. Therefore, as previously mentioned, the project is hardly likely to find favor at Edmonton just at present. The matter, however, is being threshed out at Vancouver and other cities, where the firemen are asking for more time free from duty."

Edmonton types were honored at the recent convention at Regina at the Western Canada conference of typographical unions by D. K. Knott, of Edmonton, being unanimously elected as president of the convention. The delegates from Edmonton were D. K. Knott and R. McCreath, who reported the transaction of a considerable amount of business. The convention went on record as being strongly opposed to conscription, inasmuch as it was had been taken to conscript the wealth of the country and the "big forests were enriching themselves at the expense of the lives of the common people. Also the government had lamentably failed to handle the food situation."

The report of the secretary-treasurer, B. W. Bellamy, of Medicine Hat, stated that during the past year thirteen members from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta had been killed at the front and thirty-six had been wounded. Approximately 150 members from the prairie provinces were still in active service. The report commented on the fact that there had been considerable activity in connection with the improvement of sanitary conditions in printing offices. In Regina, Moose Jaw and Edmonton progress had been made along these lines.

FRENCH TROOPS CAPTURE ENEMY POST AND TAKE SOME PRISONERS

German Artillery Makes Violent Bombardment of First Lines, But Attacks Are Successfully Warded Off by French.

Paris, June 1.—French troops last night captured a German post south of Chevreux, taking a number of prisoners, the war office announces. Raids by Germans and an attack on the Casque were repulsed.

The statement follows: "During the night the enemy's artillery vigorously counter-shelled by our artillery, conducted a rather violent bombardment of our first lines in the region north of Moulin-de-Laffaux, on the Calvados plateau, and in the Chevreux wood. Various attacks by the Germans west of Cerny and south of the Loire were repulsed by our fire. A German effort against our position at the Casque also was repulsed. In the enemy losses without yielding any results. The enemy left 30 prisoners in our hands."

"We captured a German post south of Chevreux and took prisoners. There is nothing to report from the remainder of the front."

British Make Gain. London, June 1.—Our troops gained ground slightly during the night west of Cherley (Arras front)," says today's official announcement. "Patrol encounters resulted in our favor last night near Gousaucourt. Successful raids were made by us northeast of Loos and near Lindester wood."

German Statement. Berlin, June 1, via London.—Heavy gunfire last night reached a stage of great intensity in the region of the Dura on the Belgian coast and in the Ypres bend, particularly in the West-chaete, says the official statement issued today by the German headquarters staff.

department of the unorganized will have its own sessions, and when grievances arise in these departments, they will, when approved by the federal executive, be supported by the whole body without qualification. It is considered that this will make the city employees one of the strongest unions in the city. The federation when complete will ask for a charter from the Canadian Trades and Labor Congress and will also affiliate with the local trades and labor council."

LAST WEEK some comment was made to the effect that now the city firemen had organized. It was likely they would have some requests to make of council at a future date. This may not happen for some time, because financial conditions and the scarcity of men would make certain demands appear somewhat unreasonable, but when the time is ripe the firemen may ask that the two-platform system shall be introduced at Edmonton. It may not be common knowledge that the firemen are on duty twenty-four hours in the day, but such is the case; certainly, he has his time for eating, sleeping and recreation, but he is liable to be called out for duty at any moment. This means when there is an epidemic of outbreaks, such as are known in all cities, the men set their full share of work with little interruption. The two-platform system is claimed to obviate this, because the men work in two shifts with set times, one on duty and the other then being off. To institute this means an increased number of men in the department, with the natural consequence—a larger payroll. Therefore, as previously mentioned, the project is hardly likely to find favor at Edmonton just at present. The matter, however, is being threshed out at Vancouver and other cities, where the firemen are asking for more time free from duty."

Edmonton types were honored at the recent convention at Regina at the Western Canada conference of typographical unions by D. K. Knott, of Edmonton, being unanimously elected as president of the convention. The delegates from Edmonton were D. K. Knott and R. McCreath, who reported the transaction of a considerable amount of business. The convention went on record as being strongly opposed to conscription, inasmuch as it was had been taken to conscript the wealth of the country and the "big forests were enriching themselves at the expense of the lives of the common people. Also the government had lamentably failed to handle the food situation."

The report of the secretary-treasurer, B. W. Bellamy, of Medicine Hat, stated that during the past year thirteen members from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta had been killed at the front and thirty-six had been wounded. Approximately 150 members from the prairie provinces were still in active service. The report commented on the fact that there had been considerable activity in connection with the improvement of sanitary conditions in printing offices. In Regina, Moose Jaw and Edmonton progress had been made along these lines.

Lift Corns Off With Fingers

Doesn't hurt a bit! Corns and calluses loosen and fall off! Magic!

Few drops of Freezone take all pain and soreness from corns instantly

No hump! Any corn, whether hard, soft, or between the toes, will loosen right up and lift off, without a particle of pain or soreness.

Wonderful discovery
by Cincinnati man

This remarkable drug is called Freezone and is a compound of ether discovered by a Cincinnati man.

Ask at any drug store for a small bottle of Freezone, which will cost but a trifle, but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus.

Put a few drops directly upon any tender, aching corn or callus. Instantly the soreness disappears and shortly the corn or callus will loosen and can be lifted right off with the fingers.

Freezone doesn't eat out the corns or calluses but shrivels or rather loosens them without even irritating the surrounding skin.

Just think! No pain at all; no soreness or smarting when applying it or afterwards. Try a little and see for yourself. It is surprising.

Few drops stop corn-pain

Take soreness from any corn or callus instantly

Women should keep Freezone on their dressers and never let a corn ache twice. If a corn starts hurting just apply a drop. The pain stops instantly, corn goes!

Try bottles of Freezone cost but a few cents at any drug store.

WANTED GORKY TO INFLUENCE SEPARATE PEACE

Russian Author States Bulgarian Minister Tried to Inveigle Him
Into Negotiations

Petrograd, via London, June 1.—Maxim Gorky, the noted Russian author, published a sensational account of an attempt by the Bulgarian minister at Berlin, to inveigle him into clandestine negotiations for a separate peace.

The peace proposal, Gorky declares, was delivered to him at Petrograd in duplicate by two German agents, acting individually.

In the Novaya Zhizn, of which Gorky is the editor, he prints Rizov's secret dispatch with concrete peace proposals, and although he himself is an almost fanatical advocate of peace, denounces Rizov.

Rizov, it is stated, made the following concrete proposal: Russia to conclude an immediate armistice with her foes, both belligerents retaining their present fronts, and to summon immediately a Russian constituent assembly with the aim of deciding on peace or war.

PHONE STRIKE IS NOT INTERFERING WITH SERVICE

North of Red Deer Only One Man
Is Reported to Have Gone Out

The strike of provincial telephone employees does not appear as if it will have any paralyzing effect on the service.

Officials of the provincial government have taken the situation promptly in hand and girls are being taken in to supply the places of the men who have gone out on strike. These girls will work under the direction of some of the more highly skilled male operators, who still remain in the service.

It must not be imagined that all the men are out, as north of Red Deer there is only one man who has left work, the strike being practically confined to places like Calgary, Lethbridge, and other districts south of Red Deer.

According to the representative of the international union of the electrical workers, W. J. Dixon, there are three main points at issue—a definite agreement between the men and the government, definition of apprentices and skilled mechanics and abolition of a graduated wage scale.

The government, although declining to enter into an agreement, offer a schedule, which practically includes the whole of the requirements of the strikers.

SHOOT WILSON PASTOR'S SHOPES

Minister of German Methodist Church in Minneapolis Is Arrested

Minneapolis, June 1.—The Rev. Charles L. Lambert, for nearly 18 years pastor of the German Methodist church, Thirtieth Avenue and Eighth Street, was arrested yesterday charged with writing a letter tending to incite the assassination of President Wilson.

When arrested before Howard S. Abbott, court commissioner, the minister pleaded guilty to writing a letter in which he said: "I hope Wilson will be shot before the war is over." It was found over to the federal grand jury and was released on $2,000 bail to appear the first Tuesday in October.

The letter which brought about the arrest of the minister was written to the Liberty Loan Committee. It was written on the margin of a form sent to the ministers of the city asking them to mention the Liberty Loan in their sermons.

These officers include a colonel, a lieutenant-colonel, a major, a captain and two lieutenants.

JUDGING LIVE STOCK

(Article written by R. C. Swift, vice-president Alberta Swine Breeders' Association)

Livestock must be judged from two standpoints: adaptability and the requirements of the market. The adaptability of an animal to the requirements of the producer, temperament and feeding qualities.

Happily, in our bacon industry the interest of the producer and consumer are not in a way conflicting. It was a time contended by many farmers that it costs more to produce the bacon hog than thelard hog.

The bacon hog must be smooth, trim and well developed. He should be of great length, fair depth and moderate thickness. Described in detail he should conform closely to the following:

The snout should be for the breed fine and of medium length, as a short stubby nose is usually associated with a short thick body. On the other hand, a very long snout and head, like a long face on a steer, usually indicates poor feeding qualities.

The ears should be fine in texture, firmly attached and alertly carried. A coarse and loosely carried ear usually indicates a sluggish temperament and poor feeding qualities.

The eye should be a clear index of the health and also of the nervous temperament. Any departure from the normal in health and vigor will be indicated by the eyes. Eyes of good size, bright, but placid, indicates health and good feeding qualities.

The lower should be light, trim and neat. A large, bushy jaw is of little value. The neck should be of medium length and showing no tendency to arch on top. A pig with an arching neck will show a tendency to be light and smooth. The shoulders should be light and smooth. They should be compact on top and no wider than the rest of the body. It is important that the shoulder blades be upright. It is not enough that a pig be long from tip to tip; he must be long from shoulder blade to shoulder blade. Some long pigs will show a short side of bacon because of faulty conformation of the shoulder the shoulder blades being too oblique and running back too far into the side.

The breast should be of good width and full, indicating a large chest with plenty of room for vital organs. Sometimes the apparent width of the breast is increased by faulty attachment of the forelegs, they being tacked so to speak, on the outside of the body causing a rough shoulder much like a bulldog's.

The legs should be of fair length, as

ITALIANS ARE ATTACKING ON 25-MILE FRONT WITH TENACITY

Second Stage of Italian Advance on Isonzo Front Conducted With Determination—Counter Attacks of Enemy Repulsed.

London, June 1.—Col. Repington, the London Times' military expert, writes:

"The second stage of the Italian advance on the Isonzo front, which began on May 23, has been conducted with as great determination and turn out as conspicuous success as the first which won for Italy the Kuk and Udine heights."

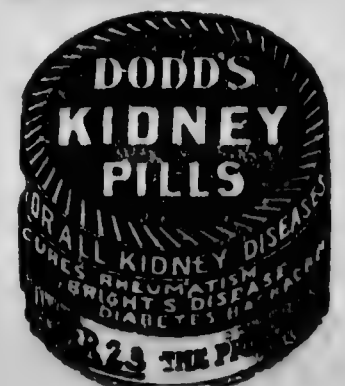

"Developments of Cadorna's plans show he is attacking in force on a broad front of 25 miles from the sea on the right to Flava on the left and the left bank of the Isonzo is now in Italian occupation, while Monte Santo itself, though not yet captured, is being seriously assailed. San Gabell is coming in for a good hammering from the guns."

"The Tivoli position is commanded from San Gabell and the heights eastward. We must admire the tenacity and hardiness of the Italians who took and have clung to it without giving an inch."

"Only three new Austrian divisions have come since the advance began. Cadorna has ample reserves to counter-balance. His first army still confronts Trentino, while Cadorna has three armies capable of executing any mission. The sympathies of all Italy allies go to her in the great national achievement to which she has set her hand."

elves, it was decided that we adjourn to the Macauley school dining room where sides were chosen and a skit game ensued.

On Sunday a meeting was called and I brought it a good plan to have the above mentioned team again Tuesday, provided they were willing. They were, or at least their members were, and Tuesday morning I told us they had lost their pitch and so were out of the running.

The day that this appears in print I will see you at the hills to Milk Creek, on the South Side.

It was announced before that we were joining St. Andrew's and that we were going to have a King annual survey of those interested we find that we can put in one team alone.

It was also announced that the annual meeting on Tuesday, June 2 at 7:30 p. m.

from the condition of the church the fact is not now in doubt. It was found that two members of the party were missing. Evidently the associations of the twilight and the connections were too much for their nerves and they had fled towards the woods. At this point the Kinnard road was taken and our wheels directed toward home.

Pacing along through the cemetery I did not fail to notice the signs of growth everywhere, also the many very beautiful spots of wooded scenery. The "Pilots" are looking forward to the trip to the shore of the lake when their cameras will be well loaded and plenty of shots made.

Home was reached at about 9:30 after a ride of about fifteen miles. The trip was all to have been a very enjoyable one.

Helped With Garden

Dear Uncle Tom—This is my second letter to your club. My mother and I planted everything in the garden. We worked very hard at it. But at last we have finished it. We have quite a big garden at our place. I sowed a bed of flowers in front of our house. I put stones all around the bed and we will wash them to make them neater. I sowed stock, pansies, nasturtiums and different kinds of flowers.

I sowed them all on the 4th of May.

Dear Uncle Tom—This is my first every day. Last night when I was doing my homework, I was thinking of the morning it is not so sore. I cannot go to school today.

I would like to be a soldier if I was old enough. I have one uncle and three cousins at the front.

And I like to go to school. I have no

The Daily Log Book

By Uncle Tom

A short time ago Blanche Lipkin wrote to Uncle Tom inquiring if some number could give her the words of Red Wing. Here they are, having been sent by Juana Clark of Holden:

There once lived an Indian maid,

A shy little prairie maid,

Who sang a lay, a love song gay,

As on the plain she'd while away the day.

She loved a warrior bold,

This shy little maid of old,

But, brave and gay, he rode one day

To battle far away.

Chorus:

Now, the moon shines tonight on prairie

Red Wing.

The breeze is sighing, the night birds

are crying,

For afar, north his star, her brave is sleeping.

While Red Wing's weeping her heart away.

She's watch for him day and night,

She kept all the campfires bright,

And under the sky each night she would lie

And dream about his coming by an-by.

But when all the braves returned,

The heart of Red Wing yearned

For far, far away, her warrior lay

Fell bravely in the fray.
